

Special Opening on May 1st 2016

“Our Genocides, a Trip Down Memory Lane” Exhibition, National Pinacoteca of Cagliari

On the occasion of International Workers’ Day, a portion of the “Our Genocides, a Trip Down Memory Lane” exhibition will be displayed in the conference hall of the National Pinacoteca of Cagliari, curated by Pamela Sau and Giulio Barrocu, creator and author of the installations. The photographs relaying a trip to Auschwitz bring forth the memories of other historical genocides. The concentration camps are depicted by the accompanying graphic art, alongside works (Stefania Costa, Gabriele Peddes and Gino Vercelli) and abstract images of other human massacres and the victims of inhumane executions.
