Citadel of Museums - Cagliari

Sunday, June 4th, 2017 at 6:00 p.m.

Creativity, expression and workmanship from Sardinian women with a central role in the creation of rare beauty by using a timeless tradition. On June 4th, 2017 at 6:00 p.m., the first Sunday of the month which guarantees free admission, at the Spazio San Pancrazio, in the Citadel of Museums, piazza Arsenale 1, Cagliari, Sardinian Museums Organization director Giovanna Damiani inaugurates the Colorful and embroidered fabrics of Sardinia exhibition.

A precious gem, hidden for preservation, sees the light of day outside the National Pinacoteca storage facility in an explosion of shapes and colors. The exhibition features some unique features that make part of an extraordinary ethnographic heritage that brings us back in time and keeps us closer to our cultural ties. Attendees can admire an exhibit rich in charm and captivating through its genuinely original artifacts that bring about great emotion and share a piece of history with us. Museum pieces on display will be those of symbolic and decorative value to keep an age-old traditional alive and well.
