

Exhibition Food and tools from Paleolithic onwards
05-08-2017 – 24-09-2017

National Archeological Museum “G. Asproni”

A temporary dietary exhibition, based on the remains of meals and necessary tools in preparing and rendering food edible in eastern-central Sardinia. The exhibition is divided into a section dedicated to the remains of meals from the Paleolithic age all the way to the Nuraghe era as well as one section displaying the objects used in daily life for hunting, gathering, cultivating and preparing food. One more in-depth analysis is dedicated to millstones.