Garibaldi and the Risorgimento in a must-see documentary. On the occasion of the extended opening of the project Friday at the museum, which stays open until 11:00 p.m., on Friday, August 25th at the Garibaldi Compendium of Caprera, in the mill, at 8:30 p.m. there will be a screening of the documentary Garibaldi from Caprera to Caprera. Made in 2007 by director Lamberto Lambertini for the Presidency for the Council of Ministers, on occasion of the 200th anniversary since the birth of Giuseppe Garibaldi, the film recounts three fundamental moments from the general's life: the Roman Republic, the Battle of Calatafimi and the years spent in Caprera. Featured on television in 2011 for the 150 years of united Italy, the Garibaldi Compendium proposes, 10 years after it was first created, a screening of this interesting documentary that places the island of Caprera at the center and goes into detail regarding important moments in the history of the Risorgimento and its great leader, the hero of the two worlds.
